Alexander focuses his practice on defending civil claims, including construction and labor law, premises liability, trucking liability, and property damage.

Alexander has a comprehensive background working with his clients on professional liability, product liability, general liability, and subrogation matters. His experience includes representing property owners and general contractors in claims pursuant to New York State Labor Law sections 200, 240, and 241(6). He handles premises liability matters for property owners, tenants, and property managers. Alexander also has experience defending doctors and medical facilities in medical malpractice claims.

Since 2019, Alexander has been included in the New York Metro edition of Super Lawyers as a Rising Star. This honor is given to the top 2.5 percent of attorneys in the New York Metro area 40 years old or younger, or in practice for 10 years or less. Super Lawyers lists are issued by Thomson Reuters. A description of the selection methodology can be found at <https://www.superlawyers.com/about/selection-process/>.

- Secured a trial victory in NY State Supreme Court, on a case triggering claims under New York State's Labor Law and common law negligence. The Labor Law Section 200 and common law negligence claims were dismissed by the Judge. The Judge found insufficient evidence for the jury to conclude that our client was negligent, and therefore found that our client was not liable for the plaintiff's accident.
- Won a directed verdict on behalf of a commercial property owner in a premises liability matter by establishing that the
