

Eugene Feeney and Noah Katz Prevail in Physician Trial

Successfully defended a doctor in a case involving a spinal surgery and placement of a posterior fusion device where the plaintiff alleged the doctor failed to adequately achieve a fusion at the L4-L5 disk level and that the plaintiff was not a proper candidate for the surgery. After a short deliberation, the Lehigh County jury returned a unanimous verdict in favor of the defendants.