

Christian Davis Successfully Defends a Large Manufacturing Client

Successfully defended a large manufacturing client in a Pennsylvania workers' compensation claim petition. The worker alleged injury in a forklift accident. The Workers' Compensation Judge awarded benefits. On appeal, the award was reversed due to a legal argument that the worker failed to show that the alleged injury prohibited him from working. The employer was able to secure $86,000 from the Supersedeas Fund.