

Sherri Dougherty Successful in defeating claimant's Reinstatement and Review Petitions

Successful in defending a Reinstatement and Review Petition of an employee who tripped and fell at work, injuring her knee. Claimant was terminated for cause post-injury, and alleged injuries to multiple body parts other than the knee. The Judge found claimant's injury to be limited to a knee contusion, that claimant's wage loss was not related to her work injury, and found her fully recovered from the knee contusion based on credible testimony of employer's medical expert.
