Weber Gallagher Recognized by Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers for Business

Weber Gallagher was recognized as a noted firm in Pennsylvania for the first time by Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers for Business this week making the list of the leading Labor and Employment firms for its work in workers' compensation matters. For the second year in a row, Weber Gallagher's New Jersey workers' compensation practice was given recognition in Chambers under Employee Benefits & Executive Compensation firms in New Jersey for its work in workers' compensation matters.

Weber Gallagher was one of only five New Jersey firms to be named in the directory which is considered one of the most respected rankings available to law firms. In Pennsylvania, 16 firms were named, almost all of them large national/international firms. Weber Gallagher was one of only three of the 16 firms named with fewer than 300 attorneys.

In Pennsylvania, we have offices in Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Norristown and Scranton. The firm has three offices in New Jersey including Mount Laurel, Paramus and Warren. We handle thousands of workers' compensation cases each year defending employers, insurance companies, large and small businesses, educational institutions and hospitals.

Chambers compiles its rigorous rankings by peer reviews, interviews with firm clients and other research on firms and attorneys.
