

05.11.18

Jeffrey Newby Moderates A Panel Presentation at the New Jersey Self Insurers' Association Workers' Compensation Conference and Vendor Fair

Weber Gallagher Partner Jeffrey D. Newby will moderated "Legislative Update – A Panel Discussion" at the New Jersey Self Insurers' Association Workers' Compensation Conference and Vendor Fair on May 11, in Atlantic City, NJ.

The New Jersey Self Insurers' Association is professional networking and educational group for employers in New Jersey who have chosen to self-insure their workers' compensation programs. The organization has more than 100 member companies and provides publication and seminars on pending legislation and developments within the workers' compensation court system as well as networking opportunities and vendor fairs.

Newby is Chair of the New Jersey workers' compensation practice at Weber Gallagher that has been recognized by Chambers USA for their work. Newby has handled thousands of workers' compensation defense cases and counsels clients from a wide range of industries including hospitality, transportation, healthcare and retail. He is a Certified Workers' Compensation Attorney by the New Jersey Supreme Court and was inducted into the College of Workers' Compensation Lawyers through the American Bar Association in 2010.