Workers' Compensation Academy: PA versus NJ Workers' Compensation

Weber Gallagher Workers' Compensation Department co-Chairs Paul Fires and Jeffrey Newby discuss the differences between Pennsylvania and New Jersey workers' compensation laws in a lively exchange designed to bring claims professionals and risk managers up to date on claims practice in these adjacent states. Paul and Jeff cover impactful workers' compensation topics such as the online court system, medical treatment guidelines, case settlements and Section 20's, notice and statute of limitations effects, average weekly wage and rates, minimum and maximum indemnity rates, subrogation, when forms are important, and many more topics. Every subject covered in this podcast episode compares PA and NJ workers' compensation legislation, regulations, case impacts and best practices in each state.
