
24 HOUR TRUCKING ACCIDENT RAPID RESPONSE TEAM

For a quarter of a century, Weber Gallagher's 24 Hour Trucking Accident Rapid Response Team has given clients peace of mind by providing them with reassurance when faced with a crisis. The minutes and hours following a trucking accident are of the utmost importance, which is why clients turn to our Commercial Transportation team 24/7 for their most urgent needs.

From New Jersey, to Delaware, to New York, to Pennsylvania — we work with law enforcement agencies and essential personnel to resolve matters before they become major problems. Preventing litigation and mitigating risk are critical components of what we do when counseling clients involved in serious accidents.

If you need immediate assistance with investigating a trucking accident, including communicating with a driver, identifying the parties and equipment involved, or the preservation of evidence, we are on call 24/7 to help you with these key steps and more. Our talented team of commercial transportation attorneys have handled hundreds of accidents requiring a rapid response and they have done so by leveraging the firm's well established network of professionals, helping get clients' feet out of the fire.

When you call us, we wake up so you can go to bed — knowing that our dedicated and experienced attorneys always protect the interests of our clients.
